NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME

'Not me, but you.' - NSS BMU

About NSS

The National Service Scheme (NSS) is an Indian government public service program that comes under the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports of the Government of India. Popularly known as NSS, the scheme was launched in Gandhiji's Centenary year in 1969. Aimed at developing student's personality through community service, NSS is a voluntary association of young people in Colleges, Universities and at +2 level working for a campus-community (esp. Villages) linkage.

Independence Day

The club kicked off the session by celebrating the 77th Indian Independence day which featured the university's professors, students and staff members partaking in a walk around the campus ground, the country's tricolour flag proudly unfurled, in the hands of students and teachers alike.

NSS Day

The club's long-running and one of the most important events, NSS Day, took place with great enthusiasm. National Service Scheme (NSS) Day, celebrated on September 24, honours the invaluable contributions of NSS volunteers who actively engage in community service, promoting social responsibility, leadership, and national integration across India.

In commemoration of this special day, students from the university were encouraged to post pictures of themselves participating in various forms of social service, tagging the club to showcase their efforts. This initiative aimed to spread awareness and inspire others to contribute to community welfare.

Simultaneously, the club organised NSSBMUGramotsav, an event marked by heartwarming conversations, generous food donations, and unforgettable moments shared with the incredible villagers. This day-long celebration highlighted the spirit of unity and compassion, creating lasting memories for all involved.

The overwhelming response to both these initiatives was incredibly heartening, demonstrating the strong commitment of the university community to the values of NSS and the betterment of society.

Diwali

Last Diwali, NSS BMU brought the university community together with a heartwarming initiative, 'Diwali Dil Se.'

The event invited everyone to illuminate the lives of the unsung heroes who support the university daily. By donating generously, participants brought joy and smiles to the dedicated staff.

NSS BMU's 'Diwali Dil Se' highlighted the joy of sharing and strengthened the bond within the university. This initiative made Diwali memorable for all, proving that the spirit of the festival truly lies in spreading love and joy to those around us.

Spreading Smiles - A clothing Donation Drive

'It ain't much but it's honest work' - Wise words by a wise man, and totally applicable for the next highlight, which is the clothing drive convened in the month of March 2024.

This drive - organised in collaboration with the environment club of the university - was all about helping people in our community who need a hand. Folks were asked to drop off their clothes and shoes in the donation boxes set up around campus.

The boxes, filled with donated clothes, went a long way in helping people in need and spreading warmth and happiness all around and saved a whole of clothes from just going to waste.

Harmony of Generations: A Joyful Union

Approaching the end of the academic session, we come across an extremely heartwarming day - For the auspicious festival of Holi, a visit to the old age home was organised, where the students spread smiles, lent a helping hand, and celebrated the spirit of togetherness with a colorful flower shower Holi.

The event was organised in collaboration with the ENACTUS club of the university. Seeing the elderly enjoying themselves along with everyone was as pleasurable as the feeling of satisfaction thinking about having helped them with their everyday burdens, even if for a day.

Apart from the above mentioned initiatives, the club has been active with much more - for instance the Bird Summer Relief Initiative meant for helping our little feathered friends who make our campus vibrant and cheery; the Let It Grow 2.0 our initiative in the University Fest to symbolise our dreams, aspirations and motivation soaring high, with sky being the limit!! The club looks forward to another cheerful and productive year with new joinees helping around.
